ARCHIVAL MATERIALS.

The records relating to the history and administration of the Patna district for only the last two centuries are available. They are to be found in the following places :—

The records of the British conquest of Patna and its neighbourhood from 1757 to 1764 are available in the "Secret and Select Committee" Proceedings of the Governor and Council of Fort William, preserved in the Foreign Department Records of the National Archives of India, New Delhi. Some records of this description are also to be found in the printed volumes of "Bengal and Madras Records" of the same period, and are available in the National Archives of India as well as in the State Central Records Office, Bihar, Patna. The "Home Public" and the "Foreign Secret" series of records in the National Archives of India also contain valuable materials regarding the early British trade and politics at Patna. These records are also available in the Commonwealth Relations Office (formerly India Office), London.

The records of the Chief and Council at Patna, who were responsible both for revenue and commerce of Bihar from 1765 to 1772, are preserved in the West Bengal State Archives (formerly Bengal Secretariat Records Office), Calcutta. The records of the Bengal Revenue Department from 1772 to 1859 and of the Bengal Judicial Department from 1790 to 1859, are preserved in the West Bengal State Archives and contain abundant source materials for the study of the history of Patna district, as indeed of the whole of Bihar, during rule of the East India Company.

The records of the Provincial Council of Revenue at Patna from 1772 to 1781 and of the Board of Revenue at Calcutta up to 1793, are available in the Record Room of the Bihar Board of Revenue at Patna. The Bihar Board of Revenue also preserves the whole series of records relating to the revenue administration of this State since 1859.

The records of the Revenue Chief of Bihar from 1781 to 1786 are available in the State Central Records Office, Bihar, Patna. These have been brought here from the Record Room of the Shahabad Collectorate. In the State Central Records Office, Bihar, are also preserved the records of the Patna Commissioner's Office from 1812 to 1900. In these records are to be found the entire correspondence of the Collector of Patna with the Board of Revenue, Central Provinces, from 1825 to 1829 and with the Commissioner of Patna Division from 1829 to 1900. From 1787 to 1825 the Patna district formed part of the revenue charge of the Collector of Bihar, and hence the records relating to Patna before 1825 are to be found in the correspondence of the Collector of Bihar. In the State Central Records Office, Bihar, are also to be found the records of the Government of Bengal relating to Bihar from 1859 to 1912 and of the Government of Bihar since 1912. The records relating to the Freedom Movement are kept in the State Central Records Office, Bihar, as well as in the Political (Special) Department, Bihar.

The administration of Justice and Police in the city of Patna and its neighbourhood from 1793 to 1831 was under the Judge-Magistrate of Patna and not the Collector of Patna. The Magistracy was amalgamated with the collectorship in 1831, but was again separated in 1838. Since then till 1859 a wholetime Magistrate was appointed for the criminal administration of the district. The records of the Judge-Magistrate and the Magistrate of Patna from 1790 to 1858 were preserved in the office of the District Judge, Patna. Some years ago these were brought to the Bihar Research Society, Patna, for the purpose of editing and they are still there.

The record relating to the administration of Justice in the Patna district are also available in the archives of the Calcutta and Patna High Courts.

The Records Room of the Patna Collectorate contains vernacular records relating to the revenue administration of the district. All post-1857 English records of the Collectorate are also preserved there.
